I have the honor to forward herewith a copy of the Report on the working of the Civil Veterinary Department for the year 1913-14.

2. The condition of cattle was not so satisfactory as in the previous year and insufficiency of water and fodder was felt towards the close of the year. The mortality among cattle was somewhat larger during the last quarter of the year when the seasonal conditions were bad and the supply of fodder and water scanty.

3. The total number of fresh admissions at the various hospitals and dispensaries of the State was 18,622 as against 17,761 during the previous year and the total number of cases treated daily rose from 65,836 to 66,934. The number of fresh admissions and the number of cases treated was the largest in the Mysore Veterinary Hospital being 3,451 and 12,022 respectively. All the Veterinary Assistants did inoculation work during the year and the number of cattle inoculated was 2,058 as against 2,597 in the previous year. The shoeing branch opened in some of the dispensaries is reported to be popular and to be doing good work.

4. The itineration of the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, and that of Assistant Veterinary Inspectors was generally satisfactory. The Superintendent inspected all the Veterinary institutions twice in the year and attended to other useful miscellaneous work. Lectures on Veterinary subjects were also delivered at the various cattle shows which were well attended. The Superintendent was of much help to the Dairy Farm Committee and furnished them with the necessary information.

5. The Superintendent urges again the question of providing better accommodation for and equipment in the Veterinary dispensaries. This may perhaps be considered along with the scheme for the construction of new dispensaries on which opinions have been called for.

ENCLOSURE.

Report on the working of the Civil Veterinary Department in Mysore during the year 1913-14.

Though the prospects of the season were fair, frequent complaints of insufficiency of water and fodder were made from various parts of the Province and the condition of cattle was not so very satisfactory as in the previous year.

Black-quarter had broken out in an epidemic form in parts of Tumkur, Kolar and Chitaldrug Districts, and in an endemic form in parts of Mysore, Bangalore and Hassan Districts. Sporadic cases of Anthrax and Rinderpest were reported from a few villages in Bangalore and Mysore Districts, while cases of Septicæmia Hæmorrhagica were confined only to portions of Kadur, Hassan and Shimoga Districts. Foot and mouth disease prevailed throughout the year in Kadur and Shimoga Districts, while it broke out as usual from January to April 1914 in other districts.

2. Treatment of Diseases.—There were eight Veterinary hospitals and dispensaries one at the headquarters of each district under an Assistant Veterinary Inspector and an extra Assistant was also attached to each of the Districts of Mysore and Bangalore, where the work was very heavy for one Assistant. The total number of fresh admissions during the year was 18,622 as against 17,761 during the previous year, while the total number of cases treated daily rose to 66,934, while it was 65,836 in 1912-13.

3. Investigation and Research.—Mr. K. Krishna Iyengar of Chikmagalur investigated fowl cholera in Poultry and Mr. B. V. Venkatachari of Hassan investigated Stomatebis among the ponies of the Arsikere and Manjarabad Mail Tonga Company. After the necessary curative and preventive treatment no fresh cases were reported.

4. Veterinary Hospitals and Dispensaries.—The following statement shows the number and classes of animals and the diseases for which they were treated in the Veterinary hospitals and dispensaries during the year 1913-14.

Preventive Inoculation.—The following statement shows the number of cattle inoculated during the year:—

District	Black quarter	Anthrax	Total number
Bangalore	204	...	204
Mysore	58	24	82
Tumkur	306	...	306
Kolar	241	...	241
Hassan	53	...	53
Chitaldrug	761	411	1,172
Total ...	1,623	435	2,058

As could be seen from the large number of cases treated in the Veterinary hospitals and dispensaries, all the Assistant Veterinary Inspectors have done good work in the hospitals and their work in the districts was also fairly satisfactory.

5. Cattle Shows.—Cattle shows were held as usual at Mysore, Chunchankatte, Hemagiri, Mudukatore, Karegatta, Himavathgopalabetta, Nanjangud, Maddur (Mysore District), Ghati Subramanya, Kabbal, Magadi, Anekal (Bangalore District), Hassan, Ramanathpur (Hassan District), Nandi, Vanarasi, Kunur (Kolar District), Maddagiri, Nagalmadike, Kyamenahalli, Yedeyur (Tumkur District), Rampur, Channagiri (Shimoga District), Harihar (Chitaldrug District), and Anthargatte (Kadur District). Of the shows, those at Ghati Subramanya, Nandi, Chunchankatte and Hemagiri were very well attended and the collection of cattle was also good but the trade in cattle was not as brisk in these shows as in the previous year. As the date of Harihar show was changed this year, the collection of cattle was not as big as that of last year and so was also the trade in cattle.

6. Itineration.—The Superintendent of the Civil Veterinary Department spent 118 days in itineration, travelled 4,435 miles by railway and 1,059 miles by road, inspected all the Veterinary hospitals and dispensaries twice and visited some of the taluks in Bangalore and Chitaldrug Districts to check inoculation work. He also treated during itineration 86 cases of foot and mouth disease and 34 cases for various constitutional diseases. He visited Channapatna, Nelamangala, Whitefield, Tumkur and Kunigal, to inspect the creameries and to collect the necessary statistics for starting Dairy Farms at Bangalore. He also visited the breeding centres in the Mysore District to select breeding bulls for the various Veterinary hospitals and dispensaries. He was present at the cattle shows at Mysore, Ghati Subramanya, Nandi and Harihar. As requested by the committee of the Ranibennur Agricultural Exhibition and Cattle Show he was deputed by the Mysore Government to judge cattle and to deliver lectures on Veterinary subjects at the exhibition. He also supervised the Veterinary students of the special agricultural class attached to the Normal School at Mysore and conducted their final examination. He also attended the various meetings of the Dairy Farm Committee and helped the Committee with the necessary information for the organization of Dairy Farms in the State. The Assistant Veterinary Inspectors itinerated in their respective districts, travelled 4,765 miles by railway and 6,705 miles by road and gave useful instructions to cattle owners regarding suppression of contagious diseases. They also treated 793 cases for various diseases during itineration. Messrs. K. N. Sreenivasan of Bangalore, and N. Krishna Iyengar of Tumkur, have castrated a large number of bulls on modern methods during their itineration and have made this method of castration more popular among cattle owners.

7. Lectures and Demonstrations.—The Veterinary Library now consists of more than 200 volumes and is also replenished with all the leading Veterinary journals in the English language. Many of the officers of the Agricultural and Medical Departments have freely made use of the Library. All the Assistant Veterinary Inspectors have delivered lectures on Veterinary subjects in the various cattle shows held in their respective districts and they were very well attended.

Considering the steady progress made in the various branches of the veterinary profession and the growth in the demand for Veterinary help, day by day, I am under the painful necessity to bring again to the notice of Government the urgent need of better accommodation and equipment.

The Revenue Officers are as usual co-operating with the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, and the other Veterinary officers. The Imperial Bacteriologist was always ready and willing to help the Superintendent with the necessary instructions in inoculation work for which the department is very much indebted.

Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department.

No. 9970-78—1, dated 11th February 1915.

Recorded.

The accompanying statement shows the extent of cattle mortality in the several districts during the quarter under review, as compared with that of the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The losses have been particularly heavy during the quarter under review there being a large number of deaths among them due to accidents and other causes. The Deputy Commissioner, Chitaldrug District, states that the cattle in the Holalkere Taluk suffered owing to shortage of fodder during the period. The other Deputy Commissioners have not furnished any explanation in the matter.

No. R. 8044-6 Ft. 133-11-5, dated 18th March 1915.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Read—

Government Order No. R. 448-50—Ft. 206-06-2, dated 19th July 1907, directing the publication of a statement of concessions allowed to certain villages in the neighbourhood of certain State Forests of the Sorab and Shikarpur Taluks in the Shimoga District.

2. Subject No. 164 of the Proceedings of the Representative Assembly of 1914, praying that the raiyats of several villages in the neighbourhood of Talagadde and [illegible] Forests in the Sorab Taluk may be allowed the privilege of fetching [illegible] agricultural implements free from State Forests wherever they exist on the ground of there being no District Forests in the vicinity or of there being no trees in them.

3. Subject No. 789 of the proceedings of the Representative Assembly of 1913, praying for similar concessions in respect of the villages of the Sorab Taluk in the neighbourhood of the Talagadde State Forest.

4. Letter No. 2889, dated 15th September 1914, from the Conservator of Forests in Mysore, submitting with enclosures the report of the Deputy Commissioner, Shimoga District, on the subject and stating that no further concessions are called for as those already granted in the order read above are sufficient.

Order No. R. 8044-6 Ft. 133-11-5, dated 18th March 1915.

The report of the Deputy Commissioner, Shimoga District, which is based on personal enquiries made by him and which is in accordance with the views of the local forest officers, gives a fair indication of the requirements of the raiyats concerned.

Government are satisfied that sufficient facilities do not at present exist in the District Forests for the raiyats of the villages under advertence in the matter of grazing, fuel and wood for agricultural implements. The concessions granted in Notification No. R. 451—Ft. 206-06-3, dated 19th July 1907, do not seem to be adequate as far as some of the villages in the neighbourhood of the State Forests are concerned.

They are, therefore, pleased to sanction, in modification of the above order, the following concessions to the neighbouring villagers of the State Forests named below :—

State Forest.	Names of villages entitled to concessions.	Particulars of concession.
Bettadakurli.	Tudineeru and Haya.	Free grazing.
Talagadde.	Surnagi and Kumrur.	Do
Do	Artalagadde and Alaballi.	Teak fuel at 4 annas per cart load.

The raiyats of all the villages mentioned in the notification referred to above will be allowed to take wood for agricultural purposes at half the rates of seigniorage mentioned in Government Order No. R. 7365-74—Ft. 164-04-8, dated 17th March 1909, promulgating the Malnad Raiyats' Special Privileges Rules.

A statement of all the concessions as revised by this order will be published in the form of a notification for information.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Read—

Government Order No. R. 6211-22—Ft. 139-13-1, dated the 11th February 1914, placing Messrs. G. Krishnamurti Naidu and H. S. Narayana Rao on special duty for carrying out a survey of the forest resources of the State and investigating the means of developing forest industries.

2. * Letter No. 1803, dated the 18th August 1914, from the Conservator of Forests in Mysore, submitting Mr. G. Krishnamurti Naidu's report regarding the potentialities of the Ghat Forests of the Shimoga District.

* (Printed as annexures.)

Order No. R. 7783-4—Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

Mr. G. Krishnamurti Naidu's interesting report furnishes a good deal of hitherto unknown information and opens up an extensive field of investigation as to the best manner of utilising the almost virgin resources of the Ghat Forests of Shimoga.

2. Government consider it necessary that the lines of enquiry suggested in the report should be taken up forthwith, and pursued as expeditiously as possible till a definite scheme is evolved for the development of our forest wealth.

3. The Conservator of Forests is requested to commence investigation and formulate proposals regarding the advantageous exploitation of the 56 square miles of primeval forest in and about the Agumbi Ghat region. He and the Director of Industries and Commerce should, in consultation with each other, conduct experiments to test the suitableness of the various woods referred to in the report for the manufacture of pencils and matches. The commercial possibilities of wood-oil distillation should also be examined. The results of these investigations should be placed before the Industries and Commerce Committee of the Economic Conference.

4. The utilization of Dhuma and other timbers in which these forests abound is an important problem requiring solution and experiments should be conducted to determine whether they cannot be rendered suitable, by antiseptic or other processes, for employment as railway sleepers in lieu of the more valuable teak.

5. The Conservator of Forests should in consultation with the Director of Industries and Commerce, prepare a list of the items of investigation work proposed to be taken up, and get it printed to facilitate the watching of progress. A report should be submitted to Government every quarter thereafter till all the questions are satisfactorily settled or disposed of.

D. M. NARASINGA RAO,
Offg. Secy. to Govt., Gen. & Rev. Depts.

To—The Conservator of Forests in Mysore.
The Director of Industries and Commerce } with the request that a copy of the quarterly reports should be sent to the Industries and Commerce Committee of the Economic Conference.

No. R. 7783-4—Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

No. 1803, dated Bangalore, 18th August 1914, from M. G. Rama Rao, Esq., B.A., Officiating Conservator of Forests in Mysore, to D. M. Narasinga Rao, Esq., B.A., B.L., Officiating Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

In forwarding herewith for the information of Government, the very interesting report of Mr. Krishnamurthi Naidu, on the possibilities of the Ghat Forests of the Shimoga District, I have the honour to state as follows:—

The total area of the Ghat Forests explored by Mr. Krishnamurthi Naidu, is given as 200 square miles which consist of:—

(a) Virgin forests	...	...	40 per cent
(b) Second growth forests	...	...	20 ,,
(c) Grass lands and shifting cultivation		...	40 ,,

3. These grass lands are said to have arisen from a system of shifting cultivation, and probably the repeated firing of such area has prevented the re-establishment of woody species.

4. The annual rainfall in these tracts, varies from 150 to 325 inches lasting from June to October.

5. The forests are more or less evergreen, and the types of vegetation described in the several forests contain a number of identical species. The outstanding feature of these forests is the pre-eminence of trees belonging to the family of Dipterocarpæ and said to contain a preponderance of trees, mature or approaching maturity and the estimated yield of outturn appears to be very great. It is pointed out that there are 67 important species, but many of them have not yet been botanically determined. The description of trees should have been amplified indicating the general characters of leaf, bark, inflorescence and fruits of the species for easy identification. The principle uses of the various timbers have yet to be determined with notes on weight, hardness and the results of mechanical tests.

6. Of the several forests proposed for working, I beg to suggest that the Agumbi series of forests which form one compact block of 56 square miles be taken up for consideration with a view for present working as the possibilities are considered to be very great. The annual yield of these forests is estimated at 567,850 cubic feet. Under the proposed felling prescriptions, the number of trees to be felled annually would be 1½ tree or 150 cubic feet per acre. There will be no trouble whatever in finding a market for timber suitable for building purposes or for cabinet making. There are large varieties of woods such as Dhuma, Balage, Hadasale and other hard-wooded species, giving an annual yield of 400,000 of cubic feet which require immediate exploitation. Species allied to Dhuma are under test for sleepers in Burma after being treated with antiseptics. As various projects for Railway construction are taken up on hand, and wooden sleepers are required, the question of using these woods, requires immediate investigation. They have to be subjected to antiseptic treatment and their relative value determined with reference to teak. This entails a series of experiments and tests which will be carried out as early as possible.

There also appears materials enough in sufficient quantities for match and pencil woods and samples of timber for such industries will be sent for for being tested.

Information is also furnished regarding minor forest produce found in the ghats. Distillation of cinnamon oil and rattan industry require immediate attention.

7. Though these forests are traversed by good roads as will be evident from the report, the only impediment in the way of their immediate working is the prohibitive cost of extraction which owing to their distant lead from markets like Shimoga is said to amount to as much as twelve annas per cubic foot. At this rate, it would not pay us to exploit trees other than Kiralbogi, Devagarige, Balo and Nagasampige and even in their case the amount of seigniorage realized will not be commensurate with the value these timbers fetch under more favourable conditions.

Tirthahalli is eminently suited for an industrial centre and the proposed extension of the Railway from Shimoga to Tirthahalli, coupled with the management of extraction from these forests by temporary or portable tramways will go a great way towards solving this difficulty. The financial success of such an undertaking would again depend upon the suitability or otherwise, for sleeper manufacture of the Dhuma species which are abundantly found in these forests. Attention is therefore to be concentrated on this subject and after the experiments and tests mentioned already have been completed and the result proves satisfactory, these forests will be taken up for immediate working.

8. The report indicates investigation in varied fields of forest activity and holds out a prospect of the full investigation of the forest wealth in the immediate future with sufficient investment of capital. There are difficulties to be surmounted and if they are faced in earnest, the solution seems to be in sight.

No. R. 7783-4—Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

REPORT.

The area under report comprises the marginally noted State Forests and Reserve lands aggregating to 200 square miles in Shimoga District. The whole is one continuous strip of forest along the frontier in Tirthahalli, Nagar and Sagar Taluks extending from Kadur District boundary near Begar up to Thalguppa on Sagar-Honnavar road. This area may be 70 miles long in a straight line and forms the Ghat Forest proper in Shimoga District. Beyond this the Ghat proper disappears, and both the nature of the country and of the forest growth completely change. The width of the forest is very varying, while it is not more than a few furlongs over some portion of Varahi Forest it spreads itself into many miles in Govardhanagiri Forest. Naturally as it ought to be the forest growth is very varying. It contains all the three types of forest growth, viz., moist evergreen, dry evergreen and dry deciduous, aspect, rainfall, soil and other local conditions being the chief reasons for such varied growth. The country is extremely hilly, cut up by numerous streams and nallas most of which flow into the sea direct crossing the frontier. The highest hill is Kodachadri which is 4,411 feet above the sea. In fact it is only a portion of Agumbi and Balehalli forest which is in the drainage area of the Tunga river; part of Agumbi forest, Varahi, Kilandur, Chakra, Baisi and Mattikii are in the ba[illegible] of the Chakra river; while all the other forests, viz., Kodachadri, Karni, Govardhanagiri, Jog, Iduvani and Bellenne Forests are in the basin of the Sharavati river and its tributary Yennehole, all of which flow into the Arabian Sea. Thus instead of their being of some help for the extraction of timber, they add to the difficulty, on account of their forming deep precipitous valleys and gorges.

The recorded average rainfall in the vicinity of this Ghat Forest at the undermentioned stations is as follows :—

Agumbi 323·75 (average of 41 years 1870 to 1910).
Nagar 190·51 (average of 18 years 1893 to 1910).
Aralgode 232·01 (average of 12 years 1899 to 1910).

Save for the few days spent in Shimoga Range with the Pencil Expert Mr. Luber, the period devoted for the exploration of this forest tract may be said to be from 13th April 1914 to 12th June 1914.

As regards the forest growth, it is one continuous uninterrupted mass of magnificent tree growth from the Kadur District boundary up to Holapur bechirakh village in Kilandur Forest in the Nagar Taluk. There are a few natural blanks and some old kumri clearings, which, however, do not very much affect the general look of the forest. This well-stocked portion of the forest comprises Balehalli, Agumbi, Varahi, Manibyle, and part of Kilandur. The total area of this well-stocked bit of forest is about 56 square miles. However, some 10 per cent will have to be deducted for the above-stated natural blanks and old kumri clearings.

Over this tract the forest is chiefly moist, evergreen or dry evergreen, and is of virgin growth uninterfered with by man excepting in its accessible outskirts. The growth is stately and magnificent. Trees of 100 to 150 feet height with a girth of 10 to 15 feet are very common. But the several species are not uniformly distributed throughout the forest. Some confine themselves to special localities. The following are the most important and abundant ones found in this area :—Kiralbhogi, Hadasale, Surahonne, Balagi, Nagasampige, Kempinola, Hotnala, Kendala, Mangappe, Balle, Gulumavu, Bilihebbalasu, Devagarige, Nandi, among the important species, and amongst the most abundant ones Dhunna, Sataga and Holegara may be mentioned.

Kiralbhogi the most valuable of the ghat species is found in the strip of forest lying between the Varahi river and the frontier line. Further in Kilandur Forest it appears in its home in Kotegundi valley and on the right bank of the Chakra river up to Kalmuvuhalla and again in Holapurhalla valley where, however, there are not many mature trees. Manibyle Forest is also noted for this species, but there are very few mature trees at present. This species is capable of growing 6 to 10 feet girth with a clean height growth of 50 to 60 feet.

Hadasale, a valuable timber tree is found distributed evenly to a large extent in Balehalli and Agumbi Forest. In Varahi and Kilandur Forests it is sparsely distributed and confines itself to a few localities, while it is completely absent in Manibyle block. In this species trees from 6 to 10 feet girth are very common, the height growth being 50 to 60 feet.

Surahonne is poorly represented in these blocks and confines itself mostly to the banks of nallas. Mature exploitable trees are few. There are many large size poles. This is a majestic tree of the ghats capable of attaining a girth of 8 to 12 feet or more.

Balagi is a very evenly distributed tree and forms a decent percentage of tree growth. A valuable timber; local demand very limited. It is necessary to find an industry to utilise this wood. The growth is similar to Hadasala.

Nagasampige, a valuable tree. The local demand very limited and is mostly for poles. The distribution is very uneven. Found here and there in groups in Balehalli, Agumbi and Varahi Forests. In Manibyle it is absent and in Kilandur it is found in pretty good numbers in certain localities. The growth is similar to Balagi and Hadasale.

No. R. 7783-4 -Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

Kempinola is considered as a good timber tree and its distribution is also even, but by their nature do not seem to be capable of attaining large girths. It is mostly found in large poles of 4 feet girth and below.

Hotnola: The distribution is much sparser than Kempinola, but the habit of growth is the same.

Kendala: The distribution is more or less uniform and the nature of growth is the same as Kempinola.

Mangappe is a fine timber tree, as good as Devagarige without that yellowish tinge and shining medulary rays. Its distribution is very very sparse and very uneven. It is capable of attaining 6 to 10 feet girth and height growth of 30 to 40 feet in favourable localities.

Bale or the Ebony tree. This is very very sparse and mature exploitable trees are very few.

Gulumavu is a timber tree though not much in the timber market. It is, though in small number compared with Balagi, evenly distributed. In this, trees of 40 to 50 feet high with a girth of 8 to 10 feet are common.

Bilihebbalalasu is a fine white-wooded timber tree growing to a very large size, chiefly confined to water courses and nallas.

Devagarige or white cedar, a highly valued timber tree, is conspicuously absent in Balehalli and Agumbi and Manibyle Forests, but found in small quantity in portions of Varahi and Kilandur Forests.

Nandi is not a tree of the moist evergreen forest. It is found to some extent in the dry evergreen forests bordering natural blanks and old Kumri clearings. It appears to be the first tree to come up in forest cleared areas. It also forms, though very open, a pure crop of poles in the open grassy lands in Kilandur Forest.

Dhuma: This is the grandest tree of the ghats. It is noted for its clean cylindrical growth and height. It attains a height of 100 to 150 feet and the girth varies from 10 to 15 feet. Its distribution is even in the above blocks of forests, excepting in Manibyle, where it may be said to be absent. This tree is very little known and is considered useless, but for a few dug-outs made now and then and taken to South Canara for use in the sea water where it is considered to keep well. It is necessary to find use for this wood before any attempt is made to work the ghat forests.

Sataga is a white-wooded tree, very soft, considered as useless for any purpose. It is evenly distributed. The quantity available is large. It is necessary to find some use for the same.

Holagar is another pinkish white-wooded tree not used for anything at present. It is evenly distributed and attains fairly good height growth. The wood has yet to be tested.

Besides the above, there are many more useful woods in large quantities, a complete list of which is furnished in list A, showing the localities where they are found and the quantities available in each locality.

Beyond the above described 56 square miles of forest, that is, from Holapurhalla valley up to Jog the forest presents a different appearance altogether which is mostly due to the reckless and ruinous doings of man. Excepting natural rocky ridges with shallow soil and higher slopes of hills like Kodachadri, Ambargudda, Devakonda and Majalbare, the whole tract is capable of producing either moist or dry evergreen forest, but it is a heart-rending sight to see the effects of old reckless Kumri clearings and of annual fires in all grass lands. The following are the blocks of forests which come under this category:—

Part of Kilandur, Baisi, Mattikii, Chakra, Kodachadri, Karni, Govardhanagiri, Jog, Iduvani and Bellenne Forests with an aggregate area of 144 square miles.

I purpose to give a brief description of the present condition of each forest to determine what they would be under rigid protection in the future and to justify any excluding of these for the immediate working.

In Kilandur Forest the remaining 13 squares miles consist of small isolated dry evergreen kans, old Kumries and extensive open grass land studded with Nandi poles, Gaval and Kangal. In the scattered kans Naibalsu, Nerlu, Nandi, Nanja, Nisne, Guragi, Kadagolmurga are the important species.

Baisi and Mattikii are very poor open forests with sparsely distributed Nandi, Matti, Gaval, Kanagal, Uruga and other deciduous trees, with a string of evergreen or semi-evergreen trees in nallas or in sheltered slopes of the hills. These two blocks are unfit for working at present, and they require tending.

Kodachadri which is 6 square miles in all is a ruined forest due to Kumri cultivation excepting about 2 square miles of virgin forest in Manihalla valley and Karighat kan. This bit of forest contains beautiful Balagi, Hadasale, Kempinola, Hotnola, Dhuma and Holagara. A new species called Muginamara which may be suitable for pencil is found here.

Karni which is an extensive forest and is stated to be 29 square miles does not hold more than 6 square miles of virgin forest which is in four distinct far situated patches. One in the valley between Devakanda and Chalkanbarre betta at the head of Yennehole which is a tributary of the Sharavati river; the second is what is known as Belligundi valley situated by the side of Baidur bullock path, a more magnificent forest than the first; the third is a narrow strip of poor forest on Yedamale hill, and the fourth is another small patch near Basavanboi by the side of Hogehoddi bullock path. All these patches of virgin forest contain principally Balagi with Hadasale, Nagasampige, Kempinola and Hotnola with inferior species like Dhuma, Ramanadike, Guragi, Nerlu, Gulmavu, Kummarlu and other species. On account of this scattered condition and limited stock, it may not be advantageous to work them at present.

No. R. 7783-4—Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

General description.

Govardhanagiri, which is the biggest of the lot and is supposed to be 52 square miles, is a miserable forest at present owing to reckless and uncontrolled Kumri system of cultivation which must have been carried on from time immemorial. It no doubt contains many thinly populated so-called villages as enclosures, but the ruinous effects of Kumri cultivation are seen on all sides and everywhere. In this whole forest there are not more than about 10 square miles containing exploitable trees of any species taking even the smallest strips into account. The biggest and the richest patch is what is known as Gavevarre halla valley situated between Magani village hill ridge and Hogekadi bullock path. The next biggest patch, though not rich in valuable species, is Urgalhalli or Siraladahalla valley which extends up to almost the foot of Govardhanagiri hill. Some of the other important rich patches are Saralhole valley by the side of the new Bhatkal-road, Bachodi and Neleri kans a little above the villages of the same name, and then Kanchigadde kan at the source of Kanapagarhalla and Thota and Debbe kans on the left bank of the Himadihole. Of these individual kans Gavevarre halla kan is the biggest and the richest containing Balagi, Hadasale, Nagasampige, Devadaru, Kempinola, Gulmavu and other associates such as Dhuma, Guragi, Ramanadike, etc. Uralgalhalli valley contains only species like Ramanadike, Muginamara, Kobbi, Holagara and Kyasale with a few Nandi and Hebbahalsu poles and saplings. Saralhole valley kan and Bachodi and Neleri kans contain Haiga, Kobbi, Dhuma, Karimaru, Minangi. Thubere, etc., with a few Nagasampige, Nandi, Karidhupa and Maddidhupa trees. Kanchigadde and Thota kans contain Nandi, Hebbahalasu, Nagasampige, Devagarige. Mangappe and Haiga with inferior species such as Dhuma, Ramanadike and Guragi, etc. Surahonne also is found in small numbers. Kempinola and Sagade are also to be seen. On the whole the forest is not fit for immediate working.

Jog Blocks A and B.—These two blocks together extend from the source of Himmadihalla up to Jog falls along the frontier in a narrow strip. Block B is all old Kumri cleared area excepting a small bit near Hinsi by the side of Gersoppa bullock path. This bit may be about 1½ square miles, containing majestic Dhuma, which is the predominating tree growth. However, Surahonne is the most valuable. Nagasampige, abundant, but still in small pole size. Kobbi, Naihaisu, Muginamara, Holegara, Nerlu, Tubare, Karimarlu. Ramanadike, Chunga, Nisne, Gulvara and Hakkerekalu are the inferior species.

Contiguous to the above is what is known as Kuginagundi kan in Block A situated at the foot of the Bhagaranjan hill extending up to the frontier. The area of this may be about 3½ square miles. Its growth is the same as the above, but contains more Surahonne and Dhuma trees. Nagasampige very few, but it is compensated by Hebbahalsu. Cane is abundant in this kan.

Again there is another narrow strip of high forest in block A along the ridge of Gersoppa river gorge from Murodihalla to Jog Bungalow. The area of this may be 1 square mile containing Surahonne and Dhuma as the principal species with Karimarlu, Miniangi, Haiga, Nerlu, Holegara and other inferior ones with little Nandi, Matti and Bhoranige. Devagarige and Mangappe are found in pretty large numbers. With the exception of the above three well-stocked bits, the rest is all old Kumri clearings containing young crop of Nandi, Surahonne, Matti, Nerlu. Haiga, Hebbahalasu, Muginamara, Dhuma, Nisne and other inferior species.

Induvani Forest.—Area of the forest, 4 square miles. But the well stocked area is only two kans of about 350 acres. The rest of the forest is all old Kumri clearings and have hills tops and ridges. The kan bits contain luxuriant growth of Nerlu, Gulumavu, Nandi, Matti, Habbahalasu, Dhuma, Bilihebbahalasu, Nanja, Surahonne and Holedasavala and a few Kiralbhogi towards the river. Kumri areas contain the same species but in small poles. The open dry portions contain Matti, Nandi, Gavala, Kannagal and Tharre poles.

Bellenne Forest.—Area of the forest 3 square miles. The well-stocked bits are Manjan kan and Bellenne kan, about 300 acres in all containing Gulumavu, Nerlu, Kempinola, Kyasale, Minangi with a few Devagarige, Mangappe, Hebbahalasu, Matti and Nandi. The rest is all open dry forest containing Matti, Nandi, Gaval, Tharre, Kanagal and other inferior species.

For these reasons I would propose for the present the working of the first compact block of 56 square miles. When the demand increases and justifies the cost of extraction and other charges, the other poorly stocked and scattered bits of forests can be worked.

2. Method of working the ghat forest.

Considering the extreme hilly nature of the country, the cost of extraction and transport and mixed nature of the forest, the working of these forests will not be financially successful until some certain profitable use is found for every kind or at least major portion of the woods available in these forests. Out of about 54 kinds of woods available in these forests only the following 24 kinds are known to the local public:—

1. Kiralbhogi
2. Balagi
3. Hadasale
4. Surahonne
5. Nagasampige
6. Kempinola
7. Hotnola
8. Gulmavu
9. Bilihebbahalasu
10. Nerlu
11. Mavu
12. Devagarige
13. Mangappe
14. Balle
15. Haiga
16. Nandi
17. Hunal
18. Bhavanige
19. Matti
20. Gandhagarige
21. Nanja
22. Hebbahalasu
23. Holedasavala
24. Kalgarige

No. R. 7783-4—Ft. 53-11-10, dated 9th March 1915.

Out of the above a few, viz., Kiralbhogi, Nagasampige, Devagarige, Nerlu, Mavu, Balle, Nandi, Hunal, Matti, Nanja and Hebbahalasu are known outside the local limits. Local demand for these timbers is very limited and practically nil considering the possibilities of the forests and on account of the heavy extraction charges other woods than Kiralbhogi, Nagasampige, Devagarige and Bale cannot be placed in the far away markets. Even the working of Hebbahalasu does not pay, the chief reason being the want of demand and the low price prevailing for the well-known woods in the market. No doubt the price has risen to some extent for the past two years for the so-called inferior woods, but still it is not so high as to compel the people to go in search of other woods. Further the demand is also limited. It is within the experience of every Forest Officer, how difficult it is to clear a sale depot when the collection is large and how it affects the price. For these reasons it is out of question to introduce these woods as timbers into the market.

Besides the above, there are the remaining 31 kinds of woods both hard and soft and in many colours available in larger or smaller quantities. The only alternative course is to create suitable industries that would use these several woods. Amongst such industries may be mentioned Match Pencil, Penholder and other stationery article factories. There are many woods that may be suitable for cabinet and other ornamental works. Most important of all, there are many woods which if treated with certain processes or subjected to antiseptic treatment may prove very useful for Railway sleepers. There are also woods suitable for cigar boxes, tea boxes and packing cases. Some woods may be even useful for picture frames, etc. However, a series of experiments will have to be carried out and tested before any definite opinion is formed regarding the exact and profitable use of any wood.

As regards the system of felling to be adopted it has to be decided on the local conditions and the nature of the forests we are dealing with. The rainfall is heavy and consequent erosion is too much on the steep hill slopes. Even with the present thick forest growth, the effects of heavy rains are visible in most places. The formation of vegetable mould and humus is very poor. Consequently the fellings must be thin so as not to break the leaf canopy of the forest and thus expose the soil to the full brunt of the heavy rains. Further these evergreen forests are the nature's creation of many centuries uninterfered with by man. Intense felling is sure to change the very nature of the forest and the entire aspect of the country. Besides such a felling is sure to affect the supply of water in the springs and affect also the general rainfall to some extent. The effect of such forest clearing, owing to wasteful Kumri cultivation, is evident in Sagar and Nagar Taluks, where extensive paddy fields situated on higher levels have been abandoned on account of insufficient supply of water, and some times even there is dirth for drinking water in long summers. These considerations should not, however, prevent these forests from being worked, and allow them to lie as a dead capital. To safeguard these evils the fellings should be cautious and thin and must be repeated at short intervals. Hence the system of felling most suited to be adopted would be "selection combined with proportion fellings."

The area proposed for exploitation at present is 56 square miles but the net stocked area may be taken at 40 allowing 16 square miles for blanks, old kumri clearings and unstocked areas. This net area may be divided into four working circles of average 10 square miles, and each working circle into 10 coupes of 1 square mile average to be worked in ten years, one coupe being worked in each working circle every year, felling only one-fourth of the mature standing stock which will be ascertained by actual enumeration every year previous to the trees being selected for felling. Under the proposed system only one mature tree out of four exploitable ones will be felled which would not affect the cover of the forest, the felling will be repeated at intervals of ten years which is ample time for the area to recover from the effects of felling and lastly the present available mature stock will meet sustained supply for forty years. However, after the first felling period is over it is expected the forest will have been brought under proper working condition, the right use for each wood will have been determined and a market will have been established and a regular working plan may be drawn up based on the experiences of these ten years.

As regards the exploitable size of the several species, from my own observation, I would fix the following minimum girths, to some of the important species which is based on the present condition of the forest and on the capability of each species:—

1. Balagi		6. Mavu
2. Nagasampige ...		7. Alle	7 feet
3. Kempinola ...	4½ feet	8. Dhuma
4. Hotnola ...		1. Kiralbhogi ...
5. Haiga		2. Devagarige ...
6. Kendala ...		3. Mangappe ...
1. Hadasale ...		4. Nandi
2. Surahonne ...		5. Hunal	6 feet
3. Gulemavu ...	7 feet	6. Matti
4. Bilihebbahalasu ...		7. Nanja
5. Nerlu		8. Hebbahalasu ...
		9. Naihalasu ...

As regards the other woods they may be felled as they will be wanted by the industries proposed to be started and by those that may come into existence in the future.

No. R. 7783-4—Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

3. Possibility.

The following are the approximate quantities of woods of the several important and abundant species available every year for felling:—

	C. ft.		C. ft.
1. Kiralbhogi	10,000	13. Alle	1,000
2. Balagi	75,000	14. Devagarige	150
3. Hadasale	25,000	15. Mangappe	400
4. Surahonne	1,000	16. Haiga	1,300
5. Nagasampige ...	3,500	17. Nandi	2,500
6. Kempinola	3,000	18. Dhuma	280,000
7. Hotnola	2,000	19. Kendala	12,000
8. Gulumavu	8,000	20. Sataga	100,000
9. Naihalasu	2,500	21. Holagara	20,000
10. Bilihebbahalasu ...	4,000	22. Madle	2,000
11. Nerlu	4,500	23. Karimarlu	2,000
12. Mavu	2,000

Of the above, Kiralbhogi, Nagasampige, Kempinola, Nerlu, Devagarige, Mangappe, Haiga and Nandi are known timbers and their disposal does not present any difficulty. With the increased extraction and transport facilities these woods and also Kendala can be placed in the Gold Fields market with profit. But in the case of other less important and inferior woods suitable industries have to be created, when alone the working of these Ghat Forests can be seen up profitably and justified.

4. Chief Industries that can be started.

I. Sleeper works.—Balagi, Hadasale and Dhuma appear to be well suited for sleepers. The annual yield from the three species is estimated at nearly 400,000 of cubic feet of wood which should be enough to run a small industry of this kind. As regards the suitability of these woods, though it remains to be tested it may, however, be stated that species allied to Dhuma (Dipterocarpus Indicus) viz., Dipterocarpus terbinatus, Dipterocarpus tuberculatus and Dipterocarpus alatus have been treated in Burma and Assam with chloride of zinc and Avenarius Carbolieneum oil or Green oil. The cost is estimated at annas 3 pies 7 per metre-gauge sleeper including the cost of handling. Further 50 per cent of earth oil mixture is recommended to reduce the cost.

The next big industry that can be started is match making, provided the factory is established anywhere near to the forest like Tirthahalli or like Shimoga if a Railway is provided for cheap means of transportation of timber. Besides numerous woods of other kinds available in small quantities, there is Sataga, an Etaeocarpus species, which alone is estimated at 100,000 cubic feet yield per annum. This must be enough to maintain a factory of 1,500 gross a day, if Mr. G. C. Evance's estimate is correct.

Another factory of about the same capacity can be started in Saralhole valley in Govardhanagiri Forest which is in itself 52 square miles and abounds in many soft woods suitable for match making and other industries owing to extensive Kumri clearings. There is nice new Bhatkal road which very advantageously passes through the forest. Besides there is Bhatkal Port which will be within 15 miles of the factory if the same is established anywhere near Nagavalli which is very advantageously situated. It will find occupation for the new Kunabi settlers and it will help to populate this hochirakh tract of the State. Further it will be a start for the development of many more industries. The only consideration is about the export and import duties on the sea borne traffic.

There is scope for another small factory in Jog Forest if located anywhere near Hinni. There is cheap boat service in the Sharavati river from Gersoppa to Honnavar. The manufactured articles will have to be taken down the ghats to Gersoppa either by means of wire shoots or some other means of cheap transportation. The few drawbacks of the locality are the heavy rainfall, the long duration of the rainy season and the unhealthiness of the locality. These difficulties, I believe are incumbent on every forest industry and have to be overcome.

For the same reasons with same priviso, pencil factories can also be started in the above localities. There are sufficiently large quantities of woods such as Holigarna arcottiana, Bombax malabaricum, Canarium strictum, Myristica species, Goricinia species, Macaranga Roxburghii, Hadasale and Munginamara, probably suitable for this industry.

There are many woods suitable for tea chests and packing cases. These articles can also be prepared in the same localities with the help of saw mills and other appliances after profitable market is found for the same. Some quantity of such wood may, however, be required for the packing cases in the matches and lead pencil factories proposed above. The following woods may be suitable for this purpose:—

1. Machilus macaranta.
2. Lophopetalum wightianum.
3. Mangefera indica.
4. Chrysophyllum Roxburghii.
5. Ailanthus malabaricum.
6. Gulle.

Besides there are many fine and hard woods in appreciable quantities which may be useful for pen-holders, ink-stands, rulers, letter cases, photo and picture frames, camp furniture and other ornamental articles which may serve to promote small industries as adjuncts to the above big ones.

No. R. 7783-4—Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

The woods have, however, to be tested and sample articles prepared and exhibited, to bring them to the knowledge of the public. The following woods may be found useful for the industry:—

Dysoxylum malabaricum, Evodia Roxburghiana, Diospyros ebenum, Hopea wrighiana, Vitex altissima, Minusops elengi, Artocarpus hirsuta, Lagerstroemia Flos Reginae, Kyasatte, Articarpus integnifolia, Cedrela Toona, Carallia lucida and many others.

As regards wood pulp industry, bamboos are practically absent in these forests. A few isolated Bamboosa arundinacae clumps may be found in the low-lying dry portions ortside the ghats proper, and there are no suitable grasses. Hence the question of pulp industry has to be decided only after the soft woods like Olea dioica, Sudagenasu, Chuga, Cinnamum species, Gulle, Kyasatte, Minangi, Vatte, Kumatti and several Myristica species and other species have been tested and their value as pulp yielding woods is determined. Even if some of these are useful for the purpose, there may not be sufficient quantity to run a factory in one place. Further there is danger of overworking the forest and deteriorating the same.

Rattan Industry.

There are four kinds of canes available in these forests uniformly distributed throughout excepting in portions of Varahi, Kilandur and Karni Forests and in Manibyle, Chakra, Mattikii, Baisi and Kodachadri where they may be said to be absent. Of the four kinds Handibetta and Halbetta are common everywhere, while Siralbetta is found rarely only in Balehalli and Agumbi Forests and Sannabetta is found only in small quantities in Killandur and Jog Forests. It is only Handibetta and Halbetta that are being used by the local Kunbies and Hasale caste people in some places in making baskets, boxes and cradles, etc., of the rough kind. Much of this valuable material is being wasted by the villagers. However there is enough supply for a small home industry. The Kunbies and other local people will have to be trained for this industry, and the method of cleaning and seasoning of these canes and working have to be taught to these people. It would do well for some private persons at Sagar and Tirthahalli to take up this work. They can help and improve the industry by supplying them with more refined articles of rattan for models and also the required brass and other mountings and fittings. Thus besides helping to improve the lot of these impoverished people, they will be profiting themselves in the trade. For the purpose of introducing these canes into the markets, small quantities of cane have been collected. They will be given to some firms for their opinion.

Wood Oil.

Roughly estimated there are throughout the ghat forests over one lakh of Dhuma (Dipterocarpus indicus) trees which yield a valuable wood oil in large quantities by tapping. If it were in the proper season, some of these trees could have been tapped and the average yield per tree, the cost of collection and the present market value of this oil could have been determined. This has to be done in the next winter months. However, information has been called for from the Hassan District, where it is learnt that these trees were being tapped departmentally some years ago and the crude oil was being sold. It may be advantageous to refine the oil locally and sell. Considering the enormous number of trees available it may prove in itself a valuable industry as Chirpine resin has proved itself for turpentine and rosin in Northern India.

Cinnamon Oil.

This oil is extracted from the leaves of a particular Cinnamomun species found growing near villages with smaller leaves and containing larger percentage of oil. This seems to be an erroneous belief. Probably the difference in the percentage of the essential oil may be due to the difference of growth owing to their environments and locality. Trees growing in open dry places near villages must necessarily be stunted and have smaller leaves and more oil.

At present there is only one distillery in Tirthahalli Taluk and it prepares occasionally some small quantities of this oil. From enquiry it is learnt that this business is carried on extensively in South Canara. In Udupi at Khan Saheb Abdulla Saheb's firm, it was learnt that there is a demand for as much as 15,000 seers every year, chief market being Arabia, and the present market value is Re. 1 per seer. It is worth while to encourage the preparation of this oil.

Other Oils from Seeds.

The following are the important trees found in sufficiently large numbers, which yield oils for lamps and cooking, etc.

1. Dichopsis ellipticum (Hadasle).
2. Messua ferrea (Nagasampige).
3. Minosops Elengi (Nanja).
4. Schleichera trijuga (Sagade).
5. Mystistica species (Ramanadike) 3 kinds.
6. Garcinia species (Kadagolmurga yields Kokumbuttu).
7. Garcinia morella (Guragi yields Guragi oil).
8. Garcinia xanthochymus (Jiraka).
9. Bombax malabaricum (Buruga).

Every one of the above yield valuable oil and the collection of the raw material can be conveniently arranged for. As regards Kadagolmuruga and Guragi the number of trees has been roughly estimated and noted in list A. These may form a valuable supplemental product to the Mysore Economic Union who have undertaken to work the Veteria indica seeds in the same locality. This would be absolutely necessary for them considering the very irregular or very varying fruiting nature of Veteria Indica. For instance, in the current season there is hardly any crop. However, this is natural with all the heavy fruit leaving species like tamarind and mango, and is due to the exhaustion of trees.

No. R. 7783-4—Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

Other Minor Forest Produce

There are four species of Garcinia, found in large numbers and very evenly distributed presenting no difficulty in the matter of collection These yield Gamboje dye But considering the scarcity of labour, it is doubtful whether its collection would be financially successful

Rampatre from Myristica species is a valuable forest produce Its distribution is very wide and even, and hence the collection is also easy and cheap. This is being collected in large quantities in South Canara. Its present market value is about Rs 11 per maund, ascertained in Udupi It appears to be used for dyeing. Probably, it is also used for adulterating true Patre the produce of the real nut-meg.

There appears to be some limited demand for Cinnamon buds and Cinnamon cloves in Udupi, the present market for these being Rs 2-8-0 and Rs 13 per maund respectively.

Goddu Sige or Mondu sige bark finds a ready sale in South Canara market at Rs 3 per maund. The same appears to be used for tanning.

In Kodachadri, Karni, Govardhanagiri and Jog forests there are large numbers of Ailanthus malabaricum and Canarium strictum which yield valuable gums used as incense The former yields what is known as Halmaddi and the latter what is known as Dhupa. These may find sale if collected in sufficiently large quantities and introduced into the market Vateria indica also yields a gum resin, but it is not a forest tree, found only in the avenues and some near temples in groves.

Gallnut trees are found in sufficently large numbers in Jog, Govardhanagiri, Karni and other forests. The produce can be collected and sold with profit

Nirvate or Chakranika, a small shrub, is found growing to some extent along the nallas in all the forests. The root and seeds are ground into paste and taken in cases of fevers It is also considered as a good remedy in cholera cases if taken with arrack. Its medical value has to be ascertained.

Cardamom.

This is found in a wild state to some extent only in Agumbi forest. Elsewhere, it is completely absent. It comes up spontaneously in places where gaps are produced by wind-falls or when trees are felled. At present, the Cardamom crop is leased along with other minor forest produce The average quantity collected by the lessees is about six maunds a year Since the seeds begin to ripe in August and September when on account of heavy rains the forests are infested with leeches, and on account of pests like snakes and other reptiles, the produce is collected in a most wasteful method. It is worthwhile to encourage this industry in the ghats. Parts of Balehalli, Varahi, Killandur, Govardhanagiri and Jog are also suited for this purpose.

5. Communications and Means of Extraction of Timber.

There are fine Provincial roads passing either through or by the side of these ghat forests. Agumbi ghat road passes by the side of Balehalli and Agumbi forests and is very useful for working these forests There is also Agumbe Sringeri road which serves for Balehalli forest to some extent.

Hyderghar ghat road which passes between Varahi and Kilandur blocks, with its branches to Tirthahalli and Kallurkatte and its side road to Sampekatte is useful for Manibyle Varahi, Kilandur, Mattikii, Baisi and Chakra forests.

Kollur ghat road solely serves the purposes of Kodachadri forest.

The new Bhatkal road under construction passes very advantageously through Govardhanagiri, with its branch from Kogar to Thalaguppa viâ Aralgode very well serves the requirements of Govardhanagiri and Jog forests.

Sagar-Honnavar road and especially its branch from Thalguppa to Aralgode with its proposed extension to Jog Falls will serve to some extent the requirements of Jog, Iduwani and Bellenne forests.

Karni forest is the only one that has not got the advantage of any road, and it is also not in need of the same for the present.

Besides the above Provincial roads, there are some village and forest cart roads passing through most of the accessible portions of these forests which serve for the extraction of timber if improved and feeder lines are made as occasion requires.

In Balehalli forest is Agumbi-Mallandur cart-track.

In Agumbi forest, there are Agumbi-Doddinakumri and Kaivakikere cart-tracks penetrating into the forest to some distance. There is another neat little road starting from near Nalur on Tirthahalli-Agumbi road extends into the forest very near up to Mavinabilu. These two cart-tracks may be connected and improved, when it will serve the purposes of major portion of this forest But the portion situated within the drainage area of the Varahi river, Gopikalhalla and Nilhalla will have to be worked taking advantage of Megarvalli Melsunka cart-track viâ Thirnahalli and Nalur Yelmane cart-track viâ Dasarkudagi. However, all these cart-tracks require to be widened and improved with road dams, etc. Feeder roads required for the coupes will have to be made every year as necessity arises.

To serve the requirements of the Varahai block, there is one Megarvalli Melsunka cart-track and another Yedur-Hosur forest road which passes through Manibyle forest as well and then old Yedur-Hyderghar ghat cart-track which runs much nearer to the forest than the new road. Only feeder roads are wanted and have to be worked up every year. However, Yedur-Hosur road requires realignment in places and improvement throughout.

No. 7783-4—Ft. 53-14-10, dated 9th March 1915.

For Kilandur forest there is only one forest road from Khairgunda on Nagar-Hyderghar ghat road up to Kesivinamane. This requires realignment in places and improvement and has to be extended into Chakra river valley to serve any useful purpose. There are two bridlepaths. These can also be realigned, improved and extended so as to serve for timber carts. Beyond the Chakra river up to the foot of Kodachadri hills the country is very hilly and there are no cart-tracks whatever, excepting old Nagar-Sampekatte road which is very far from the forest. A road will have to be laid for the full stocked portion of Kilandur forest when that area happens to be taken up for working.

From Kodachadri up to Jog excepting the bits of Provincial roads already mentioned there are no other village cart-tracks whatever to be taken advantage of, and these forests are excluded from the present scheme of working. The construction of roads will have to be considered when there is necessity for the working of these forests

6. Communications, etc. required.

In spite of the existence of so many roads and facilities enumerated above, on account of the remoteness of these forests from the markets like Shimoga, and dirth for labour in the locality, the working of these forests cannot succeed if ordinary means of extraction, that is by bullock carts, is resorted to. Even supposing that the supply of carts would keep pace with the demand, the present carting rate from Balehalli, Agumbe and Varahi Forests to Shimoga Depot is annas 12 per cubic foot, and it would not pay to work any timber save Kiralbhogi, Devagarige, Bale and Nagasampige. Centres of industries may have to be fixed at Tirthahalli or Magarvalli for Balehalli and Agumbe forests, and either Nagar or Kalukatte for Varahi and Kilandur Forests. When the projected or contemplated Railway line to Tirthahalli and Sagar is completed, a common or permanent line of working will have to be determined and the rest of the points bearing on the subject will have to be decided. Though the working of these forests will have to be postponed till then, the following preliminary road works may be carried out so that everything may be ready by the time the Railway line is completed:—

(1) In Balehalli Forest Agumbe-Malandur Road. Six miles to be improved. Cost about Rs. 2,000.

(2) In Agumbe Forest:— Agumbe-Doddinakumri cart-track. Six miles to be improved and continued to Mavinahalu. Cost Rs. 3,000

(3) For Varahi and Manibyle Forests:— Yedur-Hosur forest road to be realigned and improved 10 miles. Cost about Rs. 3,000.

(4) Khairgunda Kesavinamara forest road in Kilandur forest to be improved and extended up to the Chakra river through the Kesavinamane halla valley. Total length 14 miles. Rs. 5,000.

7. Plantation.

Indigenous valuable species are Kiralbhogi, Devagarige and Ebony

As already stated, Kiralbhogi confines itself to a few selected tracts of the forest. From what has been observed it appears to thrive well in dry evergreen forest and to be in need of much light for its seeds to germinate and the seedlings to thrive. For want of the same, the natural reproduction is absolutely absent under parent trees though they are seen to seed abundantly. Hence, it may be necessary to open out leaf canopy gradually and judiciously in the vicinity of such parent trees so as to help the reproduction. Further, it deserves to be planted up annually in the worked out coupes or areas, and also in the annual kumri cleared areas in Govardhanagiri and Jog forests as it is being done in the case of teak.

Devagarige is a very valuable Cabinet wood, but its distribution is very very sparse, the quantity is very limited and its reproduction is practically absent. To serve any useful industrial purpose, it is necessary to resort to the planting of this species in the annual worked out coupes and in the Kumri lands.

Ebony may also be encouraged similarly.

Amongst the exotic timber species, there are none worth-while to be introduced into these ghat forests and into the Mysore State in general. However. Trincomale wood and Mahagony may be given a trial. Species of economic products such as Camphor and Rubber (Ficus Elastica) may be introduced. Portions of Govardhanagiri forest and especially Sarlhole valley seems to be well-suited for this purpose.

8. Condition of the People.

It may not be out of place to state something about the condition of the people in the locality. The chief raiyat population of the place are Namadari Gowdas, Jains and Havik Brahmins, and the working classes are Halepika and Hasale caste men. The former class of men are very much indebted to the few wealthy capitalists in the locality who are the owners practically of every piece of valuable land. These raiyats are only Khadim tenants cultivating the lands under Mulgeni system. The chief produces of cultivation are paddy and areca-nut. Sugar-cane cultivation is very limited. Plantains, cardamom and pepper in areca-nut gardens and castor-oil and chillies in paddy fields are only secondary crops in a few places. The local labour is inadequate to cope with the work. In most cases, the raiyats have to depend upon the labour from below ghat. Hence, the produce or the annual yield has to be shared by three individuals, viz., the money lender, the Khadim tenant and the labourer. Besides, in some instances, the Khadim tenant is obliged to sell his produce to the money lender at a fixed price irrespective of the market price. On account of these circumstances, the Khadim tenant has been the sufferer and has been obliged to live a poor and hand to mouth life generally, in spite of his working strenuously all the 365 days in the year, since in all the localities where there are chances for two paddy crops and whenever there is areca-nut cultivation, the raiyat is fully occupied throughout the year.

The prevalence of Koleroga in areca-nut crop has very much reduced the income of the raiyat. In some cases, the annual yield is as low as one-fifth of the normal crop. To secure even this small income the raiyat has to spend extra money for covering the bunches with areca-nut sheaths. The abolition of halat duty has been a great boon to him.

The custom of paying heavy purchase money for brides has precipitated the ruination of many an agricultural family. Sometimes, the amount paid is as much as Rs. 1,000 to secure a sickly girl who may not survive one child-birth in most cases. This system has forced these people into heavy debts which they are never destined to get out of. In some cases, to save themselves from these debts and in cases where there are no means for raising such debts, mutual exchange of girls is very common. The results of such marriages are very disappointing. Widowers and widows are to be seen everywhere. These systems have to be put down through the influence of the leading men of these communities.

The bad effects of the general climate of the tract, the wretched living of the people owing to their impoverished circumstances and want of civilization, the casualties in child-birth due mostly to the bad care taken of women during confinement are the causes which have been responsible for the depopulation in these localities. Medical aid by means of establishing more hospitals and services of midwives are necessary to improve the lot of these people

The Condition of Kunbies.

About 200 Kunbi families have been settled in Sagar Taluk since the past five years. Some of these families through their diligence and hard work are in comfortable circumstances. The Kunbies have been of great help to the Forest and Revenue Departments, and the country shows the sign of human existence in certain localities. But under one of the concessions granted to them more or less 200 acres of forest, at the rate of one acre per family, are being cleared for Kumri cultivation every year, which has been a ruinous affair to the forests. It is necessary to persuade these people to give up this wasteful method of Kumri cultivation and to take up gardening for which reasonable concessions may be granted.

9. Summary.

The total area explored is about 200 square miles, which forms the ghat forest proper in Shimoga District. Of this, 56 square miles comprising Balehalli, Agumbe, Varahi, Manibyle, and part of Kilandur, forms one compact well stocked high forest extending from Kadur District Boundary to Holapur nalla in Kilandur forest. This area is fit for immediate working if cheap extraction facilities are created. The remaining 144 square miles will have to be reserved for future exploitation on account of poor and immature stock they hold. However there is enough suitable wood for match and pencil factories proposed at Nagavalli and Hinni.

In the above 56 square miles if worked under selection felling combined with ⅓ proportion, about 400,000 cubic feet of wood probably well suited for sleepers if treated with antiseptics, 150,000 cubic feet of wood suitable for matches, pencils, penholders and other stationery articles, 20,000 cubic feet of wood for timber, and another 20,000 cubic feet for other miscellaneous smaller industries would be annually available, and the present exploitable or mature stock will maintain a supply for 40 years at the above rate.

As regards the extraction of timber from the forest, it does not present much difficulty There are nice Provincial roads running through this strip of forest, and there are also some forest roads and village cart-tracks available for the purpose. Only short coupe roads or extraction roads will be required and these will have to be laid out and worked up every year as the work progresses and occasion requires. But the chief draw-back is the remoteness of this forest from the present railway station, viz., Shimoga. If working by means of usual bullock carts is resorted to the cost of extraction would be annas twelve a cubic foot and consequently it would not serve any industrial purpose. The Railway line must be extended to Tirthahalli and even farther and the extraction from the forest may have to be managed with either temporary or portable tramways. The industrial centres may have to be fixed at Tirthahalli and Kallurkatte. The sawing of sleepers will have to be attended to inside the forest in situ either by means of hand saws or portable saw mills. The antiseptic treatment of sleepers may be carried out either at the above places or at Shimoga. In short, this tract of ghat forest can be worked only when the woods proposed for sleepers prove useful for the purpose and are found cheaper than teak, for which they require to be tested for some years, and when Tirthahalli is connected by rail with Shimoga.

Match and pencil factories and other small industries can be started at Nagavalli on Bhatkal road taking advantage of Bhatkal sea port which will be only about 15 miles from the factory, if export and import duties are not prohibitive.

A similar factory can be established at Hinni if the carriage of manufactured articles by means of either wire shoot or by some other means to Gersoppa is allowed. There is cheap boat service from Gersoppa to Honnavar.

Rattan industry may be improved and encouraged as a rural industry.

Wood oil may be prepared by tapping Dipterocarpus indicus trees, if it proves financially successful. There is much scope for the same. But further investigation is necessary and it will be attended to.

There are seeds of certain forest trees yielding valuable oils. This may be taken up as a supplement to Vateria indica seeds by the Mysore Economic Union.

Cinnamon oil may be distilled and sold with profit in a small quantity. This can be rural or home industry.

Cardamom cultivation may be encouraged and extended into Balehalli, Varahi, Kilandur and other forests to certain localities.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Read—

Government Notification No. R. 6203—Ft. 121-09-2, dated the 15th March 1910, declaring under Section 4 of the Forest Regulation the proposal to constitute the Koramangala block of lands in the Devanhalli Taluk as State Forest and appointing a Forest Settlement Officer to conduct the enquiries, etc.

2. Letter No. 285, dated 10th July 1911, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore submitting letter No. 370* dated the 13th May 1911 from the Forest Settlement Officer in Mysore reporting on the conclusion of the settlement of the block.

3. Letter No. 1334, dated the 14th August 1911, from the Conservator of Forests in Mysore furnishing his remarks on the settlement.

4. Letter No. 98, dated 18th September 1911, from the Forest Settlement Officer resubmitting the papers with certain corrections.

5. Correspondence ending with letter No. 15115† dated the 18th June 1914, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore reporting upon the petition of the villagers of Koramangala protesting against the inclusion of gomal Survey No. 81 of their village in the proposed State Forest.

6. Letter No. 9456, dated 4th February 1915, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore resubmitting the B‡ and C‡ Registers, the sketch map and the boundary notification of the block after revision so as to exclude Survey No. 81 from the block.

(*) Printed as an accompaniment.

(†) Printed as an accompaniment.

(‡) (Letters Nos. 370 of the Forest Settlement Officer and 15115 of the Revenue Commissioner printed as accompaniments with their enclosures B and C Registers.)

Order No. R. 8008-11—Ft. 16-11-11, dated 17th March 1915.

Government agree with the Revenue Commissioner that Survey No. 81 of Koramangala village should be excluded from the block and allowed to be used as gomal as heretofore. As this exclusion would give the villagers a sufficiency of gomal, the concession allowed to them by the Forest Settlement Officer of grazing their cattle in the State Forests at half the prescribed rate is quite unnecessary. With these modifications, Government are pleased to approve of the settlement of the Koramangala forest block. The notification under Section 17 of the Forest Regulation declaring the block as State Forest with effect from the 1st July 1915 will be published in the Mysore Gazette.

2. The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, is requested to promulgate the boundaries of the block in the localities in which it is situated.

3. The assessment of Rs. 38-2-0 on Survey No. 36 of Vadigenahalli included in the block should be written off the accounts.

No. 15115—1, Bangalore, dated 18th June 1914, from K. Doraswami Iyer, Esq., Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, to the Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

With reference to your Memo No. R. 5704—Ft. 16-11-7, dated 9th April 1913, forwarding a copy of your letter to the address of the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, directing him to submit a report, after personal inspection either by himself or by the Sub-Division Officer, on the complaint of the raiyats of Koramangala in the Devanhalli Taluk, about the inclusion of gomal survey No. 81 of their village within the proposed Koramangala State Forest, I have the honor to orward herewith Memo No. R. C. 267, dated 25th October 1913, together with its enclosures (in original) from the Deputy Commissioner submitting a report in the matter.

2. The Sub-Division Officer of Dodballapur, who has made an inspection of the locality in the company of the Amildar, reports that between survey No. 55 now available as gomal and the village is a big water-course which in rainy season becomes impassable and that this land which is of poor quality does not afford sufficient pasture for the village cattle. He therefore recommends the grant of the prayer of the villagers that survey No. 81 should also be used by the villagers as gomal. In supporting this recommendation, the Deputy Commissioner states that this aspect of the question does not appear to have been presented by the villagers when their appeal against the decision of the Forest Settlement Officer was heard. In these circumstances, survey No. 81 may be excluded from he proposed State Forest and allowed to be used as gomal by the raiyats of the Koramangala village.

Letter No. 370, dated 10th May 1911, from the Forest Settlement Officer in Mysore, to the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, through the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore, District.

I have the honor to report on the conclusion of the settlement of the Koramangala Forest in the Devanhalli Taluk of the Bangalore District.

2. The initial notification under Section 4 of the Mysore Forest Regulation was issued by Government with their No. G. O. 6203—Ft.121-09-2, dated the 15th March 1910, and the same was published on pages 173 and 174 of the Mysore Gazette, Part I, dated the 17th March 1910, and the proclamation under Section 5 of the said Regulation was issued by me on the 15th April 1910 which appeared on pages 320-322 of the Mysore Kannada Gazette, Part II, dated the 28th April 1910.

3. Proclamatory notices were served on the villagers whose villages were affected by the reservation through the Amildar of the Devanhalli Taluk.

4. I inspected and perambulated the tract of the Koramangala Forest on the 27th October 1910 in company with the District Forest Officer Mr. T. Abdul Karim and the Amildar Mr. P Subba Rao B.A., B L. Enquiry of the villagers was conducted the same afternoon and the depositions of the village officials and the leading raiyats of the affected villages were recorded.

The villagers of Koramangala opposed the proposal of reservation on the score that the remaining extent of gomal land which is ill-suited for grazing purposes was quite insufficient for their cattle.

5. All the claims put forward by the raiyats were recorded and my decision was announced to the parties after taking the opinion of the District Forest Officer in the matter.

6. There were 11 claims on the whole for the following rights:—

(i) One claim for right of free grazing,

(ii) Four claims to right of way,

and (iii) Six claims to rights not falling under any one of the above.

The claim in (i) was admitted on concession rate.

All the claims in (ii) were admitted and recorded in the 'B' Register.

Of the six claims in (iii) four were admitted and two rejected.

7. The villagers of Koramangala and Chiktatmangala having appealed to the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, against my decision, that officer after perusal of the papers relating to the block in question, confirmed it.

8. The following records are herewith submitted:—

1. 'B' Register,

2. 'C' Register,

3. Boundary notification,

and 4. Sketch map and the topo-tracing,

The date from which the tract is to be declared a State Forest has to be kindly inserted in the boundary notification.

1	Tammanna, son of Venkatanna, resident of Koramangala.	27th Oct. 1910	States that after excluding the portion taken up for the reserve, only gomal survey No. 56 will be left for the use of the raiyats and that this land is inaccessible for them during the rainy season as a big halla will have to be crossed and that therefore the raiyats of this village are not in favor of giving up any portion of their gomal lands.	.....		Out of the villages affected by the reserve, Koramangala is a big and populous village showing signs of agricultural development. The raiyats of this village are not in favor of the reservation at all. As the wooded tract worth reserving for the improvement and conservancy of sandal growth lies in the extent of land proposed to be included in the reserve out of this village, the raiyats' protest should be considered as unreasonable in the absence of other strong grounds against its reservation. But at the same time, it behoves us to make reasonable concessions to them so that the reservation of the tract may be considered as quite compatible with the exercise of the rights and privileges of the raiyats. Barring the small extent of land adjoining the village and forming the northern portion of the reserve no useful purpose will be gained by reserving the remaining area. As the exclusion of a larger extent of the lands of this village would disfigure the remaining portion of the reserve, I would exclude about 20 acres from out of survey Nos. 81 and 11. By this arrangement the demarcation line which at present runs rather close to the village site will be shifted to a distance of half a furlong farther from the present point, i.e., the line will be shifted to a distance of two furlongs from the north-west corner bandh of survey No. 90 of Koramangala. No doubt the area of gomal land left for this village is considered quite adequate theoretically according to the rule of 30 acres for 100 head of cattle but considering the shallowness of the soil as also the situation of the gomal lands, it is very necessary to relax the rule. I would accordingly assign 400 acres in this locality for the use of every 100 head of cattle for gomal purposes and the area of 480 acres 21 guntas	On behalf of the Koramangala raiyats, it was urged (1) that the gomal lands which had been in their enjoyment from time immemorial should not be now taken away, (2) that the extent of gomal lands that would be left for them after satisfying the forest requirements would be very insufficient and moreover grass does not grow there in well; (3) that the trees standing on the portion of gomal land included in the State Forest had been planted by their ancestors and (4) that the reservation of the forest would deprive their cattle of the use of water in the katte lying within the State Forest. The plea of immemorial enjoyment need not be considered as that in itself is no strong argument against the present reservation. The second objection that the extent of their gomal land would become insufficient is not tenable, because the

C. VENKATA RAO, Forest Settlement Officer. 27th October 1910	total extent of gomal land in the village is 1,009 acres and 31 guntas, out of which 554 acres and 10 guntas have been proposed to be reserved It would be seen from this that the raiyats would still have 455 acres and 21 guntas of gomal made available for their cattle which are only 341 in number Calculated at the rate of 30 acres per 100 head of cattle, the extent left for the villagers will be found to be far in excess of their actual present requirement and may be taken to be a reasonable provision against the future increase in the number of cattle. As regards the 3rd contention that the trees had been planted by their ancestors, the petitioners have not been able to prove that the trees were planted by them.

	Tammanna son of Venkatanna, resident of Koramangala.	27th Oct. 1910					The fourth objection that the inclusion of certain lands in the State Forest prevents them from taking their cattle to water in the kattes lying within the reserved area, it is clear that it is not true as the Forest Settlement Officer has ordered that the kattes should be accessible to the raiyat's cattle without restriction For reasons stated above, I reject the appeals of the villagers. Sarvamanya Yedakola Village, Mysore Taluk.

No. R. 7671-2—R. M. 66-08, DATED 5TH MARCH 1915.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

READ—

Letter No. 11461, dated the 14th March 1914, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore reporting on the petition of Thoshikhane Nanjaraje Urs, Inamdar of Sarvamanya Yedakola village, Mysore Taluk, praying, that, as the heavy arrears outstanding against the village are not debitable to him but recoverable from the raiyats by Government, the village now under Government management may be restored to him.

Order No. R. 7671-2—R. M. 66-08, dated 5th March 1915.

In 1890-91, 351 acres 9 guntas of dry land in the inam village of Yedakola were brought under irrigation by an extension of the Rampur channel. Survey and settlement were introduced in 1899. The village thus became liable to Government for acreage contribution and water rate on the irrigated area, as well as for the cost incurred in the erection of boundary marks.

2. The inamdar who found himself unable to recover the arrears of rent due from his tenants and was consequently not in a position to meet his liabilities to Government, surrendered the village to attachment under section 165, Land Revenue Code, in 1903.

3. The amount now due to Government from the village consists of the following among other items:—

(i) Acreage contribution on lands irrigated by the Rampur channel extension.

(ii) Water rate on the said lands from 1890-91.

(ii) Cost of erection of boundary marks during the survey operations.

4. The inamdar represents that the tenants are responsible for these items of demand, while the latter object to payment on the ground that it would be contrary to the principle contained in Government Order No. R. 3453-61—L. R. 217-06-2 dated the 3rd December 1907 to recover by coercive processes arrears which had accrued prior to the assumption of management by Government.

5. It is unnecessary to enter into an elaborate discussion of the respective rights of inamdar and tenants in the present case.

6. Contribution, water rate, and cost of erecting boundary marks are items of Government demand in regard to which no question of limitation can arise.

7. The inamdar is no doubt primarily liable for contribution, but so soon as he has paid it, he becomes entitled to recoup himself from his tenant under section 86 (c) Land Revenue Code. As the village is under Government management, the Deputy Commissioner can charge the inmadar with contribution in the accounts and proceed to recover the amount from the tenants under section 166, Land Revenue Code.

8. In regard to water rate, steps for recovery can, under section 142, Land Revenue Code, be taken either against the inamdar or against the inferior holders, and in the circumstances of the present case, the latter alternative would undoubtedly be the more equitable. The Deputy Commissioner will accordingly proceed against the holdings of the raiyats for the arrears of water rate due to Government, credit being given them for the amounts of proved payments made by them to the inamdar. The unrecovered residuum of water rate, if any, left after the adoption of this procedure, has to be charged against the inamdar in the management accounts.

No. R. 7671-2—R. M. 66-08, DATED 5TH MARCH 1915.

9. The cost of erecting boundary marks is, under section 130, Land Revenue Code, leviable from the holders or others having an interest in the lands concerned and the tenants are clearly liable for these charges.

10. The Deputy Commissioner is requested to report through the Revenue Commissioner the result of the action taken at the end of 3 months from this date and to pursue the matter until it is finally settled.

Paragraph 5 of Government Proceedings No. 1516-8—Med. 212-09-4, dated the 13th August 1910, requesting the Chief Engineer to expedite the preparation of the plans and estimates for the necessary additions and improvements to the new Leper Asylum buildings, Bangalore.

2. Note No. 321, dated the 27th August 1913, by the Chief Engineer of Mysore, submitting for sanction an estimate amounting to Rs. 7,666 for constructing a block of 24 cells for the accommodation of lepers in the Leper Asylum at Bangalore.

Order No. 7606-18—Med. 130-14-2, dated 31st March 1915.

In connection with the estimate submitted by the Chief Engineer for improvements in the building in which the leper Asylum is at present located at Bangalore, the question whether the existing arrangement for the maintenance of lepers in the State under which only persons who voluntarily seek admission are taken into the Asylum are adequate, or whether any radical change in the system, such as the introduction of compulsory segregation of all lepers is necessary in order to prevent the spread of the disease in the State has been considered by Government.

2. According to the Census Report of 1911, the number of lepers in the whole State is 756, and though there has been an increase of nearly 90 lepers during the decade following the Census of 1901, the increase is not considered to be such as to call for any immediate special legislation for the compulsory segregation of all lepers. Popular opinion also does not seem to be quite in sympathy with the introduction of compulsory segregation, and a scheme with such an object moreover, in order that it may be successfully worked requires considerable expenditure, both initial and recurring, and the formation of a Special Leper Colony or Settlement where the unfortunate victims of the disease might be provided with all reasonable solaces to their lot. Government have therefore decided to defer the question of the measures necessary to deal with the lepers in the State more effectively for the present and to sanction necessary improvements to the existing building.

3. There is a provision of Rs. 3,000 in the Public Works budget for the current year for the construction of an additional block. As the estimate received from the Chief Engineer has also been approved by the Sanitary Commissioner, Government are pleased to sanction it. Government consider it very necessary that the building should be provided with a proper compound wall. The Chief Engineer is requested to consider in communication with the Sanitary Commissioner whether a compound wall also cannot be put up by a few minor omissions in the estimate now sanctioned. If this is not possible, a supplementary estimate may be sent.

4. The Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioners of Districts are requested to arrange for some observation of lepers in the State, and take steps to prevent them from pursuing occupations likely to endanger the public health. Each head of a family having a leper dependent on him should also be induced to keep the latter as far as possible separate from the other members of his family. The Sanitary Commissioner will be responsible to suggest to Government from time to time measures which may be necessary to bring the lepers in the State under proper control and to prevent the immigration of lepers from outside the State.

5. The President of the Bangalore City Municipal Council and the Sanitary Commissioner are requested to see what may be done to brighten the condition of lepers in the existing Asylum by enlisting the interest of any non-sectarian philanthropic or other bodies on their behalf.

CUBBON PARK IMPROVEMENTS.

No.	Item of work	State of progress, etc., at present	Latest orders of Government	Officers responsible and time appointed	Remarks
1	Laying out the ground between the Queen's statue and the King's statue.	The understanding originally was that the total cost of all the improvements to be made in this quarter was not to exceed Rs. 6,000. But two estimates have now been submitted one by Mr. Krumbiegel for Rs. 6,000 for laying out the ground and forming flower beds, etc., and the other by the Public Works Department, for Rs. 9,000 to connect the two statues by a straight road and widen the culvert. The present estimates seem to be excessive and require further revision.	The total cost of improvements to be effected should not exceed Rs. 10,000. The Superintendent, Government Gardens, and the Deputy Chief Engineer should prepare estimates in consultation with each other and provide for all the works required to lay out the whole area effectively, at a cost not exceeding Rs. 10,000 including maintenance charges for six months. For future maintenance, Rs. 300 may be assigned per annum.	Mr. G. H. Krumbiegel and Mr. K. Krishna Iyengar. Estimates with complete proposals should be submitted to Government by the 25th March 1915, and the work started as soon as the estimates are sanctioned. The work should be completed by the end of May 1915.
2	Grant of a site to the Cosmopolitan Club.	The site originally promised in the southern corner of the Cubbon Park is not considered suitable for various reasons. Proposals for the selection of an alternative site are due from the Deputy Chief Engineer.	The proposal of changing the site from the southern corner of the Cubbon Park next to the existing tennis courts on the eastern boundary should be investigated and a definite scheme submitted in consultation with the members of the Club for the allotment of the new site. A plan should be prepared showing the position of the buildings and outhouses with reference to the tennis courts.	The Deputy Chief Engineer under the orders of the First Member of Council. Preliminary proposals should be sent up by the end of March 1915 and the question finally settled before the end of April 1915.
3	Tennis courts at the eastern extremity of the Cubbon Park belonging to the Gymkhana Club.	It is understood that though the site on which the tennis courts now exist belongs to Government, some of the courts them-	The condition on which the sites were given should be ascertained and arrangements made to get them back. The outhouses should be pulled down and the wall which obstructs the view of the Museum removed. The question of utilizing the tennis courts by leasing them out to the Cosmopolitan Club or to others should be considered and settled.
4	Latrine building in the Cubbon Park.	This building is an eyesore and is understood to be little used.	It should be ascertained from the Public Works Department as to what use is made of the building and whether it may be removed. The question of providing a series of underground latrines for the use of the officials and others in the Cubbon Park should be investigated.	Deputy Chief Engineer. Rough proposals to be submitted by 15th April 1915. The matter to be finally settled by 1st September 1915.
5	Laying out roads in the Cubbon Park.	Estimates amounting to Rs. 13,335 have been sanctioned and one road is completed.	The other roads should be completed early.	Deputy Chief Engineer. End of December 1915.
6	Removal of undergrowth and abandoned huts and filling up of pits in the lands newly acquired for the extension of the Cubbon Park opposite Sir Sheshadri Iyer's statue.	Progress seems rather slow ...	All the huts in the abandoned hamlets should be dismantled at once. Pits should be filled up, undergrowth removed and lawns formed wherever possible.	Mr. Krumbiegel. The removal of undergrowth and huts should be completed by the end of May 1915. Forming of lawns should be started as soon as the rainy season sets in.
7	Levelling and sloping the ground on either side of the road from Sir Seshadri Iyer's statue to the corner of the Sampangi tank.	Estimates have been sanctioned, but progress is slow.	Work should be put in hand at once and completed within the next few months.	Mr. Krumbiegel. End of May 1915.

8	Formation of a Circle near the Cenotaph road.	This seems to be very necessary in order to give a good appearance to the Cubbon Park.	The City Municipality should be addressed and arrangements made for its completion early.	Deputy Secretary.
9	Grant of land to the Ladies' Club.	A free site was promised on certain conditions. The promoters have not formed themselves into a Committee and furnished any proof that they are in earnest and will be able to carry the scheme through.	Notice to be given that the concessions are withdrawn as no action has been taken in the matter.	Do
10	Grant of a site to the Mythic Society.	The Inspector-General of Education has been requested to state whether he has any objection to the site behind the Government High School building being granted to the Society.	Should be settled early in consultation with the Inspector-General of Education.	Deputy Secretary. 15th April 1915.
11	Improving the ground round about the new Public Office buildings.	...	The ground should be levelled as soon as the buildings are completed.	Deputy Chief Engineer and Mr. Krumbiegel.
12	Construction of a new building for the Public Offices.	The construction of a building estimated at Rs. 2½ to 3 lakhs for accommodating the offices now held in rented buildings, on the site of the Cenotaph road between the Revenue Survey Office and the Y. M. C. A., has been sanctioned.	The site selected for the new Public Offices should be correctly marked on the ground and designs and estimates prepared as soon as possible. A plan of the Cubbon Park should be prepared, showing existing buildings, new buildings to be completed and other features.	The Chief Engineer has promised:— (1) to have the preliminary plans and rough estimates prepared by 10th March 1915; (2) to have detailed designs and estimates prepared by 10th June 1915; (3) to have the work executed within two years from date of sanction.
13	Other works required in the Cubbon Park.		A list of all other works required for improving the appearance of the Cubbon Park should be prepared with rough estimates of cost and a programme settled as to the order in which the works may be undertaken.	Mr. Krumbiegel and Deputy Chief Engineer. Within 6 months.
14	Maintenance of the Cubbon Park.	At present there are a number of pits all over the Park, stumps of trees, etc.	All the pits should be filled up and uneven ground levelled and decayed trees removed. New trees should be planted wherever necessary. A list of rules should be prepared for observance by officials connected with the Park and others using the Park.	Mr. Krumbiegel and Deputy Chief Engineer. 1st July 1915.

Read—

Para 4 of Government Order No. 34-44—Edn. 374-13-2, dated the 2nd July 1914, indicating the lines for the improvement of Primary Education in the State.

2. Letter No. 9623-409, dated the 5th December 1914, from the Inspector-General of Education, to the Secretary to Government, Departments of Education and Agriculture :—

I have the honor to bring to the notice of Government that facilities for the education of adults are very meagre at present, limited as they are to a number of Night Schools of which there are 26 in the Bangalore District 10 in the Kolar District, 41 in the Tumkur District, 25 in the Mysore District, 6 in the Hassan District, 9 in the Shimoga District, 12 in the Chitaldrug District and 1 in the Kadur District, or in all 130. A sum of Rs. 534 per mensem or Rs. 6,408 per annum is being given from State Funds as grants-in-aid on account of these schools. In my letter No. 9469—400, dated 3rd December 1914, I have recommended 20 more Night Schools for grants-in-aid, which when sanctioned will raise the total number of Night Schools to 150. The strength of these schools is however about 4,045; and considering that th percentage of literacy among the mass of the population of the State is only 6¼, it is clear that considerable headway has still to be made before the country can be said to have attained a fair degree of literacy enabling it to benefit by a knowledge of the improvements effected in other countries.

2. It appears to me, therefore, that systematic efforts should be made for some time to come to bring more and more adult people under education, and with this object, I beg to propose that 100 Adult Schools may be sanctioned for being opened during the current official year. These schools may be started as annexures to the existing schools, so that there may be no extra cost for house-rent, furniture and other items. The classes may generally be held for two hours in the evenings in the existing school buildings, under the immediate supervision of the Head Masters of the respective schools or others as may be nominated by the Department. As among the adults there will be a number who have had some training in a primary school and will have attained some degree of literacy, a class which may be called "Continuation Class" will be needed for them, where a special curriculum of higher primary education will be prescribed for them. Another class will be needed for those who are totally illiterate. For these two classes two masters in each school will be needed, who may be paid a monthly allowance of Rs. 6 and Rs. 5 respectively. The hundred schools now proposed will be opened at all Taluk and District Head-quarters as far as possible and in some other places having a large population.

3. The cost for each school will be :— for the allowance of two teachers Rs. 11 per month, for the allowance of a servant Rs. 2 per month, for contingent grant Re. 1, per month total Rs. 14 per month, supplemented by small contributions from the pupils for the cost of lighting. For one hundred schools, the total cost will be Rs. 1,400 per mensem or Rs. 16,800 per annum. The schools will be open only to adults who may be regarded as including all those who have attained the age of fifteen years and upwards, and who have ceased attending any of the Day Schools. Each shool will be placed under the supervision of a Committee, including the Head Master of the Day School, in which building the Adult School is held.

4. For the current official year, about Rs. 6,000 will be needed and this sum may be met from the savings out of the provision of Rs. 84,000 for opening one thousand aided schools (called experimental schools) in the current year's Education Budget under 18 H. education, 8 grants-in-aid, 2 salary and rent-grants to Anglo-Vernacular, Vernacular and Sanskrit Schools.

Order No. 3174-77—Edn. 77-14-2, dated 3rd March 1915.

The proposal of the Inspector-General of Education to open 100 adult schools is sanctioned for a period of two years. Care should be taken to open these schools only in places in which the number of pupils comes to twenty and the average attendance to fifteen.

No. 3174-77—Edn. 77-14-2, dated 3rd March 1915.

2. The cost required during the current official year, viz., about Rs. 6,000 will be met from the source pointed out in the fourth para of the Inspector-General's letter.

3. Suitable grants-in-aid will also be given by Government to day or night schools started by private agency for the education of adults.

4. The scheme submitted by the Inspector-General seems suitable as an instalment in the direction of adult education. A special report should be sent up to Government by the Inspector-General not later than June 1916, suggesting necessary modification or expansion of the scheme after the expiry of the period of sanction.

2. Letter No. 14798—653, dated the 27th February 1915, from the Inspector-General of Education in Mysore, requesting sanction to open 100 new Aided Elementary Schools in addition to the 1,000 schools referred to in the Government Order read above, the total cost being however kept within the limit of Rs. 7,000 per mensem or Rs. 84,000 per annum already sanctioned.

Order No. 3599-3600—Edn. 84-14-3, dated 29th March 1915.

The Inspector-General of Education in Mysore reports that as the grants of the 1,000 aided schools have not been sanctioned at the maximum of Rs. 7 per mensem in all cases but at rates varying from Rs. 5 to Rs. 7 an amount of Rs. 1,124 per mensem will be available out of the allotment of Rs. 7,000 per mensem sanctioned for them, and recommends the opening of 100 more schools the charge on account of all the 1,100 aided schools being kept within the said provision.

2. Government are glad to note the popularity of the scheme of aided schools which is reported to have been already fully availed of and are pleased to sanction the opening of 100 more aided schools subject to the same conditions as prescribed in the Government Order read above and on the understanding that the total monthly cost should not exceed the allotment of Rs. 7,000 already sanctioned.

Compulsory Education.

No. 3627-30—Edn. 57-14-5, dated 30th March 1915.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

DEPARTMENTS OF EDUCATION AND AGRICULTURE.

Read—

Letter No. 12541—551, dated the 23rd January 1915, from the Inspector-General of Education, submitting his proposals for working out the scheme of Compulsory Elementary Education in the fifteen notified localities (printed as annexure).

Order No. 3627-30—Edn. 57-14-5, dated 30th March 1915.

1. Government observe that the Inspector-General of Education is not in favour of opening new Government schools in all cases where provision for educating more students has to be made, but considers that the improvement and expansion of existing schools and the starting of aided schools should be encouraged wherever practicable. He further recommends that the grant-in-aid rules may be relaxed so as to admit of grants being given up to two-thirds of the cost, during the next three years in the notified areas.

2. Government agree with the Inspector-General in his views and are pleased to approve of the principles enunciated by him, including the relaxation of the grant-in-aid rule for three years.

3. It is not, however, clear from his letter how many new Government schools are likely to be required, how many aided schools may be expected to be started in each of the cities and towns, and how many of the existing schools require to be improved or in how many of them more students can be admitted after effecting improvements. The number of aided, Government or Municipal schools out of the 205 institutions now in existence, is not also known. In the absence of information on these points, and as to the number of schools having one, two, three or more classes respectively, Government are not in a position to judge of the financial effects of the proposals.

4. They are, however, satisfied that the line of action proposed by the Inspector-General is suitable and they are therefore pleased to authorise the Inspector-General of Education to proceed to give effect to the scheme in accordance therewith, and to open new schools or sanction grants to aided schools as the need arises. The Comptroller is also authorised to admit the charges incurred by the Inspector-General under this order for a period of three months in each case, in anticipation of and pending the formal sanction of Government. The Inspector-General should submit his detailed proposals to Government from time to time so as to secure their sanction within three months from the starting of a new school, Government or aided.

5. As regards the improvement of existing schools, Government are pleased to sanction the following scales of establishment and charges for primary schools as a standard to be adopted in the case of schools having not less than 120 students on the rolls and 100 in average attendance.

6. In opening new schools the Inspector-General of Education is requested to see that the ratio of one teacher for 30 students, is not exceeded in any institution. The Inspector-General is also empowered to appoint additional teachers in existing schools whenever the number of students warrants it, subject to the conditions prescribed in para 4 above.

7. The cost during the current year on account of the above charges will be met from the provision of Rs. 25,000 under 18 Education, (4) Government Schools, General.

No. 3627-30—Edn. 57-14-5, dated 30th March 1915.

No. 12541—551, dated Bangalore, 23rd January 1915, from Rao Bahadur M. Shama Rao, Esq., M.A., Inspector-General of Education in Mysore, to C. S. Balasundaram Iyer, Esq., B.A., Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Departments of Education and Agriculture, Bangalore.

I have the honour to submit for the information of Government that out of the fifteen places brought under the operation of the Elementary Education Regulation in Government Order No. 12568—Edn. 334-13-4, dated 13th June 1914, work on practical lines has been actually started in all of them except in three places: Tumkur, Chikballapur and Chikmagalur. On account of the outbreak of plague at Tumkur and Chikballapur, it became necessary to postpone the introduction of the scheme. Now that people are beginning to return to their homes, action is being taken. As regards Chikmagalur, revised proposals about constituting the School Committees are expected to be received in a few days from the Deputy Commissioner, when the work of starting the scheme will be taken in hand.

The practical working of the scheme in most of the places selected and the collection of statistics relating to school-going boys between the ages of 7 and 11 indicate, however, the need for opening more primary schools in all the places where compulsory education has been or is being introduced. The enclosed statement gives the number of existing schools, the number of boys between the ages of 7 and 11 now under instruction and the num of those for whom provision is required. In column 7 of the statement is shown roughly the additional number of schools proposed for each place either by the School Committees or by the departmental officers.

From my knowledge of the working of the scheme, I find, however, that it is inadvisable to open a number of new schools simultaneously. In the larger places mentioned, such as Bangalore or Mysore, by a redistribution of the schools or by the opening of one or two additional sections of classes, it becomes, I believe, possible to accommodate a larger number of children. Then again, in the Mysore and Bangalore Cities as well as in some other places there are a number of schools maintained or aided from Municipal or other funds which have a number of inefficient teachers on account of the salary being low. If these teachers are withdrawn and better teachers are substituted, a larger number of boys can be handled in each class and the schools can admit more boys.

In these circumstances, I am not in favour of opening at once a large number of schools. I think in the interest of economy, it is desirable to improve the staff and accommodation of the existing schools and only after their full strength is reached, more schools need be opened. Of course, there are a number of localities where no schools exist at present and where it will be necessary to open new schools. These may be treated on their own merits, but in localities where there are Government or aided schools, the first effort should be to improve them so as to facilitate the admission of more boys.

It is found that in the Cities of Mysore and Bangalore higher rates of pay are needed on account of the greater costliness of living than in the other places and I accordingly propose that the following scales of pay, etc., for primary schools may generally be accepted by Government.

Where there are aided or Municipal schools, the same scales of pay are to be adopted as far as possible and the Inspector-General may be permitted to give grants-in-aid towards the cost from one-half to two-thirds for the next three years to come, efforts being made in the meanwhile for the reduction of the Government grant above one-half, if any, by the improvement of the school finances; where it becomes absolutely necessary to open Government Schools, the full cost has, of course to be met from Government funds. I shall, however, endeavour to start as many new aided schools as are practicable and it is only when the resources in this direction are exhausted, that new Government schools will be allowed to be opened. I request that Government may be pleased to invest the Inspector-General with sufficient liberty of action in this matter, as I wish to interest the local people as largely as possible in the maintenance of efficient primary schools in their midst and make the funds generously made available by Government go as far as possible in the spread of education.

In the current year's budget, there is a provision of Rs. 25,000 to meet the cost of the above proposals under 18 Education, (4) Government Schools, General.

DEPARTMENTS OF EDUCATION AND AGRICULTURE.

READ—

Report on the working of the Agricultural Department for 1913-14, received with the Director's letter No. 1241, dated 17th September 1914.

Order No. 3372-3420—A. I. 36-14-7, dated 15th March 1915.

The outstanding feature of the year is the expansion and reorganisation of the Agricultural Department sanctioned by Government in February 1914, by which the staff of the department has been considerably strengthened, especially in those branches which work in close association with the people. The average annual cost was increased from Rs. 46,411 to Rs. 1,10,663⅔.

Definite programmes of work for the various branches have also been formulated.

Direction.—The Director toured for 97 days during the year and the Deputy and Assistant Directors for 69 and 73 days respectively. Government are inclined to believe that a greater amount of touring is required for the effective direction of practical work in the villages, and for getting into closer touch with local organisations and individual raiyats. Government desire also to lay stress on the importance of slow marches and halts during tours, and to indicate the necessity to visit villages which are situated away from the roadside and interest them also in the work of the department. The Director is requested to submit along with his future reports, district tour maps similar to those submitted in the Revenue Department, showing the localities visited by himself and the Deputy and Assistant Directors during each year.

Agriculture.—Considerable attention was paid during the year to the cultivation of new varieties of cotton, and one of the results arrived at was that Broach cotton which takes a comparatively long time to bear is unsuitable for the conditions of the Chitaldrug District. Early orders will be passed on the question of establishing an Experimental Farm in the Chitaldrug District, so as to facilitate experiments in this connection. Government are glad to note the success of the demonstration of jaggory-boiling carried out by the department at Kibbanahalli, Tiptur Taluk. They desire that the Agricultural Department should keep in close touch with the Department of Industries and Commerce which also is carrying on work in sugar-cane milling and jaggory making, so that there may be no serious differences between the methods advocated and advice given to the people by the two departments.

Implement Depot.—It is gratifying to observe that the total value of implements sold from the departmental depot has nearly doubled, owing to the co-operation of the Revenue Officers and of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies with the Agricultural Department. Government hope that District Agricultural Associations, Taluk Progress and Village Improvement Committees will also aid in the introduction of implements in their localities, by rendering it easy for raiyats to obtain implements and spare parts without trouble and loss of time.

The demonstration of the threshing machine at Harohalli and other places in the Bangalore Taluk is a new feature of the year. The loaning of Farm implements to the cultivators of the Hebbal village is a step in the right direction. The circumstance that the raiyats of the villages in the neighbourhood of the Farm adopt and follow the improved methods used on the Farm, will be a very effective advertisement of the new methods and will produce a great impression on rural visitors to the Farm.

No. 3372-3420—A. L. 36-14-7, dated 15th March 1915.

Experiments on the Hebbal Farm.—The success that has attended the experimental cultivation of groundnuts in rotation with ragi is very encouraging and the seasonal experiments of Patta Patti sugar-cane, both on the Farm and in the Laboratory, suggest the advisability of planting cane between the months of December to March. One of the problems connected with the concentration of sugar-cane cultivation and the employment of power crushing mills is to find work for the plant for as many months as possible. It will be useful if the Agricultural Department can advise raiyats as to how cane can be planted at different times and what different varieties of cane may be so planted, so that the crop would become ready for cutting and milling continuously during a period of eight months say from November to June, without any deterioration in the quality of the jaggory.

The number of persons to whom seed was distributed from the Hebbal Farm rose from 120 to 400, and there were 1,000 visitors to the Farm during this year as against 420 in 1912-13.

Chemical Section.—The attention of the Chemical Section was chiefly concentrated on the effect of different methods of cultivation and manurial treatment on the power of the soil to retain moisture, and on the study of the enrichment of the soil by the various kinds of green manures.

Biological Section.—The operations against Koleroga, and the Kumblihula were continued with increased vigour and success during the year. Beginnings have also been made in the study of the spike disease of sandal, and the black rot, root rot and green bug of coffee, and some advance has been made in connection with the last named pest.

Botanical Section.—Work in the Botanical Section was begun during the year.

Educational Section.—The Agricultural school entered upon its second year of work on the 7th June 1914 and the strength of the school has increased to 28, i. e., 14 in each class. It is noted that the progress made by the students is satisfactory.

A short course for landholders and raiyats was also arranged in May 1914, and about 100 persons are reported to have attended it. Such courses serve a very useful purpose, and Government hope that their popularity and usefulness will be increased by the co-operation of District Officers.

Practical work in connection with the people.—Besides the above, a certain amount of work for getting into closer touch with the people, and to bring into existence local organisations for watching over agricultural operations and improvements has also been done by the Director and his staff.

Government appreciate the efforts made by the department to come in close contact with the cultivators of the soil and hope that this work will be fully developed during the current and future years, with the co-operation of District Officers and the local institutions and organisations.

General.—The work of the department has been satisfactory, and the acknowledgments of the Government are due to the Director and his staff.

Order No. 1915—Muz. 354-09-10, dated 3rd March 1915.

In the second of the orders read above, the Government were pleased to grant the request of the Tengales to carry the Jeer Vigraha in procession in the public streets of T.-Narsipur according to mamul on Tirunakshatra and Sevartha days. The question of the honors that are to be sent to the Jeer Shrine from Gunja Narasimhaswami's temple on these occasions have now been raised, and the Deputy Commissioner requests definite orders on the subject.

2. The Jeer temple being a new one unconnected with Sri Gunja Narasimhaswami's temple, the former cannot, strictly speaking, lay claim to the parade of any honors from the latter temple. In view, however, of the fact that the Jeer is a Bhakta Vigraha and a shrine dedicated to him usually forms part of a Vishnu temple, the Government are pleased to order that chatri, chamara, torches and other usual paraphernalia with the exception of Sri Shatari, should be sent as a matter of courtesy from the temple of Sri Gunja Narasimhaswami to the Jeer's temple on these processional occasions.

Petition Registered No. 845, dated the 23rd October 1913, from P. Shamiengar, Archak of Sri Hanumantharayaswami temple at Jodi Chandrahalli village in the Malvalli Taluk, praying for the restoration to the temple of inam land Maji survey No. 127, dry, of the seeding extent of 6 kolagas and ¼ Mana originally granted to the temple as inam and subsequently resumed and added on to the jodi village at the time of the Survey and Settlement and appealing against the order of the Deputy Commissioner declining to interfere with the possession of the land by one Muddu Basaviah and another under a sale executed by the jodidar.

Letter No. 51, dated the 29th July 1914, from the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District, reporting upon the petition and submitting the records of the case.

Order No. 2096 Muz. 447-13-4, dated 31st March 1915.

The case was heard by Government on the 9th February 1915, the appellant being present in person.

At the time of the Inam Settlement, the temple was not in good repair and the services therein have ceased. The Settlement Officer resumed the minor inam in question on behalf of the jodidar of the village and added it to the village. Subsequently, the jodidar agreed to restore the inam as the temple was repaired and transferred it to the name of the temple. As he has agreed to transfer it to the temple as jari inam, there can be no objection on the part of Government to treat it as such. But the title of the inamdar to make this transfer depends on whether he did it before he executed the sale deed in favour of the respondents. The sale deed seems to have been executed on the 10th July 1911. The transfer to the name of the temple appears to have been made in the accounts for Sadharana (1910-11). If it is satisfactorily made out that the transfer had been made actually before the sale, the vendors can have no title to the field.

The respondents are in possession of the property in dispute, and they cannot be summarily ousted. If the inamdar or the Archak (appellant in this case) succeeds in recovering possession of the property by civil suit or otherwise, an order that the land should be entered as a jari inam will be passed on his application. As matters stand at present, Government will not interfere with the order already passed by the Deputy Commissioner.

(1) Correspondence ending with letter No. 9103, dated the 3rd December 1914, from the Superintending Engineer, Southern Circle, regarding the purchase of lubricating oils required for the use of machinery.

(2) Note dated the 19th December 1914, by the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department.

Order No. 451-8—P. W. 2093-2100, dated 3rd March 1915.

In the correspondence referred to above, it is urged by the Superintending Engineer, Southern Circle, that lubricating oils required for the use of machinery may be permitted to be obtained from recognised firms without calling for tenders, as required by the rules laid down in Government Order No. Fl. 2760-809—G. F. 214-10-88, dated the 23rd December 1913. The reason adduced for this proposal is that there are several oils after the same name and there are no means of testing the efficiency of the different kinds without a regular oil testing machine which the Public Works Department does not possess at present. It is stated that it is not possible to find out their relative qualities by actual use, as it would be a dangerous game to experiment on valuable machinery.

2. Under the circumstances stated, Government are pleased to accord sanction to the Superintending Engineer's proposal.

Read—

Letter No. 536, dated the 22nd October 1914, from the Chief Electrical Engineer, submitting the Administration Report of the Electrical Department, for the year 1913-14.

Order No. 141-5—C. P. S., dated 15th March 1915.

The revised grant for Capital and Revenue expenditure of the Cauvery Power Scheme, for the year 1913-14 was Rs. 17,02,000 and the actual outlay incurred Rs. 17,15,916 as detailed hereunder:—

	Revised grant	Total outlay
	Rs.	Rs.
I. Capital and Revenue expenditure of the Cauvery Power Scheme	7,82,000	8,31,500
II. Fourth Installation work...	8,55,000	8,36,132
III. Bangalore Tramways	65,000	48,284
Total ...	17,02,000	17,15,916

2. Under item (1) above, the revised grant for Capital expenditure was Rs. 96,000, and for maintenance Rs. 6,86,000. Against this, the expenditure amounted to Rs. 8,31,500, made up of Rs. 1,01,103 spent on Capital account and Rs. 7,30,397 on Revenue account.

The distribution of the Revenue expenditure of Rs. 7,30,397 is shown below:—

	Rs.
I. Working expenses	3,63,028
II. Depreciation charges	2,91,759
III. Amount debitable to suspense account	989
IV. Amount adjusted on account of previous year's charges	74,621
Total	7,30,397

The excess of Rs. (7,30,397–6,86,000) = Rs. 44,397 over the grant was chiefly due to adjustment of certain charges of the previous years.

3. The revenue from the scheme during the year was estimated at Rs. 17,51,500 against Rs. 17,03,838 the actual amount realised. Leaving out of account the charges debitable to depreciation and suspense heads, the net revenue and working expenses stood at Rs. 13,40,860 and Rs. 3,63,028, respectively, against Rs. 13,54,144 and Rs. 3,51,651 during the previous year.

4. The financial results of the scheme up to the end of the year under review may be summarised as below:—

			Rs.
Capital outlay to end of June 1914			84,12,670
		Rs.
Gross earnings		1,96,58,687
	Rs.
Working expenses ...	36,24,134
Depreciation Fund ...	28,49,864
Interest on capital outlay at 4% ...	35,38,776	1,00,12,774
Net profit earned in twelve years... ...		96,45,913
Average net profit per year		... ...	8,03,826

No. 141-5—C. P. S., DATED 15TH MARCH 1915.

5. It is noted that the demand for power supply for lighting and industrial purposes is steadily increasing. At the close of the year under report, there were 3,114 street lights, 1,467 interior lighting installations and 44 power service installations, against 3,071, 1,098 and 30 respectively, the corresponding figures for the previous year.

6. There was satisfactory progress on the fourth installation of the Cauvery Power Scheme during the year and alterations necessary to render the old buildings suitable for high voltage were carried out without any interruption to service.

7. The question of constructing a tramway in Bangalore is still under discussion with the Civil and Military Station authorities in regard to the route and other details.

8. Owing to the failure of the north-east monsoon at the end of the year 1913 and the late setting in of the following south-west monsoon, the river discharge in the summer months of 1914 fell below the minimum quantity required for generating the stipulated amount of power. This resulted in some loss of revenue in spite of efficient river conservancy arrangements.

9. Government are satisfied that the staff as a whole worked well during the year.
